

Powerful

LocMag Magnetic Strip

- 50% more magnetism for more secure panel placement
- Stronger adhesive backing resists delamination from the panel

Lockfast LocMag magnetic strip is superior to most conventional brands now available in the marketplace.

Why? Because our magnetic strip measures 1.1 mgo magnetism compared to only 0.7 mgo for most conventional brands. That's over 50% greater holding power!

Plus we apply our own high-quality adhesive system to the strip back, making this product a truly outstanding performer for any display or exhibition application. Competitive pricing of this quality product helps assure the high value of your exhibit system.

Lockfast LocMag magnetic strip is available in 30-metre rolls at 12.5 mm and 25 mm widths, and as standard 1.6 mm thickness.

The magnetic strips are evenly multi-pole magnetized on one face to produce excellent holding power on metal surfaces. Superior flexibility holds secure to uneven steel surfaces. Easily cut the strip with scissors or utility knives. Use Lockfast LocMag magnetic strip as your most reliable panel connection to the exhibit frame.
